Project Name	Streamlining IT Procurement: Automating Standard Laptop Orders with Flow Designer

Empathy Map Canvas

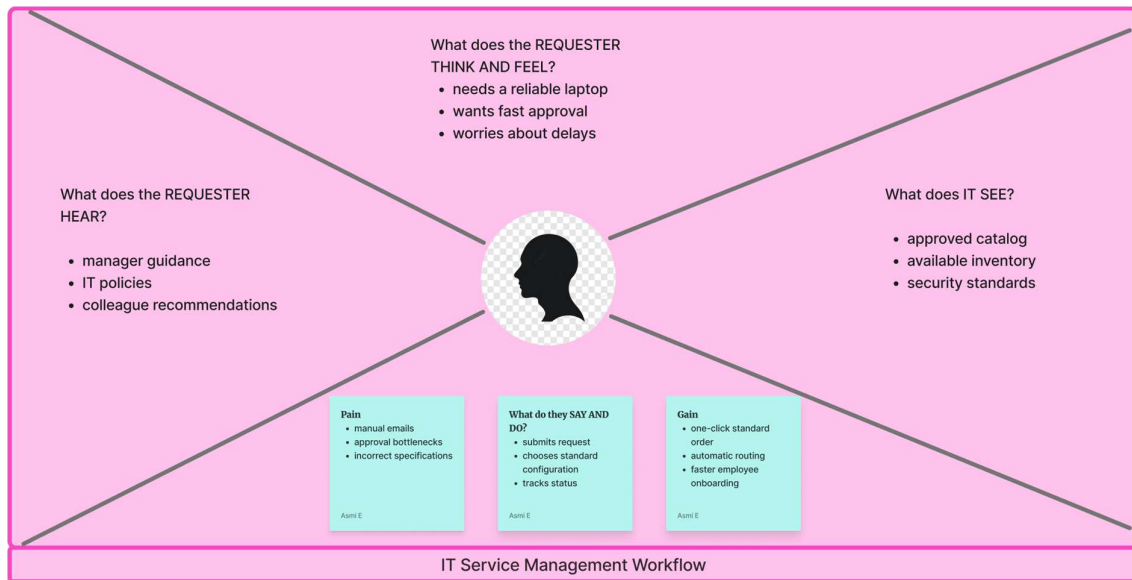

An empathy map is a simple visual tool that helps understand the needs, behaviours, thoughts, and challenges of users.

For the IT procurement process, it helps identify the difficulties faced by employees and IT teams while requesting and processing standard laptop orders. Creating the empathy map allows the team to view the procurement process from the user's perspective, understand their goals and pain points, and identify opportunities to automate standard laptop requests using Flow Designer.
